Open Day

celebrating 65 years of trading

Saturday 16 August 2014 from 10am to 4pm

Joe, Bob, Len and Charlie Lillywhite started trading in Queen Street, Emsworth in 1949. Current owners Paul & Mike Lillywhite (Charlie's sons) and staff will be marking the occasion by holding an open day when many of the more interesting cars they are involved with will be on display. The showroom will be set up as the workshop used to be, along with old equipment and memorabilia from the original garage.

The modern workshops will also be open for you to see the vast array of equipment and technology that keep today's modern cars on the road with live demonstrations running throughout the day.

Drop in for a touch of nostalgia and experience modern motoring technology in action
